ELECTRONIC RESOURCES

Academic Search Premier
A large scholarly database including citations to articles in nearly 4,000 scholarly publications.

Iter
A research project created for the advancement of learning in the study and teaching of the Middle Ages and Renaissance (400-1700) through the development of electronic resources.

JSTOR
Deep back file of scholarly journals in all fields of Arts, Science and Business. All journals are full-text and include tables of contents.

Literature Resource Center (LRC)
A literary reference database including biographical, bibliographical, and critical content on a wide variety of authors, genres, literary works, and time periods. Includes Dictionary of Literary Biography v.131 and v.151, which both include Milton and are not held by the library in physical form.

LOUIS Union Catalog
Search any or all of the online catalogs of public (and some private) academic libraries around the state.

NSU Libraries Catalog
This online catalog includes about 75% of library holdings, including 100% of items received since 1994. The catalog is searchable by author, title, or key words.

OTHER USEFUL INFORMATION

Current Journal Subscription List (Red Binders)
These contain a list of all the library’s current journal subscriptions, alphabetically by title. If a title is listed in the notebook, we have a current subscription to that journal. Under the title, you will find what years we have and what format they are in. Next to the title you will see the call number (bound volumes only). Use the red binder near your computer to see if we own the journal you need. Note that it is possible that we have a volume that you need even if it is not listed in the red binder, as the binder only contains current subscriptions; if we have dropped a subscription, we could still own the volume you need but it will not be listed in the binder. Check the online catalog to see if we have what you are looking for. If we do not, consider Interlibrary Loan.

Interlibrary Loan
All Interlibrary Loans are handled online through the ILLiad system. To access ILLiad, select “Request an Interlibrary Loan” from the library web page. If it is your first time using the system, you will need to register by clicking on “First Time Users.” Once you have registered, you may begin requesting books, articles, dissertations, and many other types of information through Interlibrary Loan. Before submitting requests, make sure the library does not own the material and that it does not appear full-text in any of our subscription databases.
